Domestic News.

Charleston, February 5.—Sailed—steamers Champion, New York; Maryland, Baltimore. Wilmingron, February 5.—Last night was one of the most terrible ever experienced here. A cold rain was falling and a fearful storm raging all night. Thus far, four marine disasters have been reported off our coast-all occurring yesterday. The schooner Eleanor, from Baltimore, with a cargo of fertilizers, went ashore at 5 p. m., a few miles North of Fort Fisher, and immediately went to pieces. Five men, supposed to be her entire crew, were drowned. When the vessel broke up, these five men were seen clinging to portions of the wreck, but in a few moments all were washed off by the heavy sea and lost. The other three vessels are schooners, from Elizabeth City, loaded with corn. It is feared that there will be a terrible loss of life to record in connection with the gale.

NEW YORK, February 5.—The News night, that an attempt was to be made on the life of Prince Arthur. An officer was detailed to watch the Prince's party, as they proceeded from the Brevoort House, to the residence of Judge Stoughton, corner Fifth avenue and Seventeenth street. A party of ruffians, sta-tiened near the Brevoort House, ap-proached, when the officer drew his revolver, and told them to leave. The officer got reinforcements, returned and attacked the ruffians, and after a severe fight, arrested William Murphy. Pat. Mulhide, Charles Gardener, John Longh and Michael McNulty. Longh is an Englishman; Gardener a native of Yonkrs. The party refused to make an explanation of their conduct, and will be arraigned before the police court, on a charge of assaulting officers. There is charge of assaulting officers. There is not sufficient proof to establish conspiracy against the Prince.

Mr. Stoughton, of Prince Arthur's party, denies the assassination story.
